Johnson and his wife Carole of Bath, ME, as well as her special friend Al Craig of Carson City.

You were my best friend in the universe. No one else can love so unconditionally as you. You accept me as I am and nothing is greater. Giving birth, nourishing and cherishing life and nature, shaping things without possessing them, serving without expectation of reward, and leading without dominating: These are profound virtues of nature, and of nature's best beings like my mother. And she's a pretty good golfer too. What a wonderful friend.

You will always be with us in spirit. You truly were a blessing. Thanks for sharing the life. I love you.

Your grateful daughter

Lisa
