

Kay Frances Foley

February 20, 1941 - February 12, 2016

Kay Francis Gardner Foley gracefully passed away at the age of 74 on February 12, 2016. She died due to progressive Alzheimer's Disease.

She was a resident at Carson Valley Senior Living in Gardnerville, Nevada. She was survived by her husband, Robert Michael Foley, Bob, her daughter Jodi Lynn Johnson, her son Martin Charles March, and her three grandchildren, Brandon March, Jordan Tackett and McKennah Tackett.

Kay worked at the AAA Insurance Company in Reno then later transferred to Carson City to open their new office until she retired. Kay was a member of the Carson City Quilters Club and had a hand in quilting the Carson City historical buildings quilt that hangs in the Capital Building in Carson City. Kay loved sailing in the Irish Mist with her family. Later, her husband and she traveled to Arizona in their motor home for the winters and summered in back home in Carson City. Bob and Kay were often seen riding the motorcycle around Nevada in their motorcycle group.

Kay's greatest joys were being a grandma, not only to her own grandchildren but all who wanted to call her grandma. She also loved talking about her Lord and sharing her faith with others.

Her family would like to thank the friendly staff at Carson Valley Senior Living for their love and support to Kay as well as her family that came to visit.

A celebration of Kay's life will be held this summer at her favorite camping spot.

Tribute Wall

“ Kay Frances Foley

November 04, 2023 at 08:25 PM

“ Kay Frances Foley

November 01, 2023 at 12:58 PM

DC

“ Bob and family:

I met Kay at triple A when she first came to carson city, she then became a customer and friend because she had great taste in vacuum cleaners. When ever we would talk her attitude was always upbeat no matter what she was facing.

One day I stopped by her house and I swear I couldnt see the front yard because of a LARGE sail boat in the driveway. Seems like the boat came with a person called Bob who helped complete her and the family.

Watching and hearing about the great times you all had always made me smile "Grandpa"

Even though her condition took her away way to soon, her love, patience, kindness, and laughter will live on in her family.

Congratulations to you all for being a part of the "story of Kay"

dave churchey

dave churchey - February 26, 2016 at 12:00 AM