Being in the same industry We spoke almost everyday for almost 30 years. With hundreds of dealings. Thank you for having such a great attitude and being fair and honest. When ever I would pick something up, he always had something interesting to say. Then, after retirement, he used to text me about politics quite often. Even a couple days before passing. Good thing we had identical opinions.. you were a great guy. I hate to see you go you deserved a long happy retirement. RIP, Larry.
